

If it's important to you...
trust it to us.

"Our goal is for completely safe and incident-free workplaces throughout our national network and our commitment is to Safety, Certainty, Always"

Malcolm Thorpe
Managing Director
AirRoad Group

Safety is embedded in all aspects of AirRoad's operations to maintain the highest standards of safety at our sites, on our vehicles and for our people. Our 'Safety, Certainty, Always' commitment underpins our performance goal - to deliver goods in full, on time and undamaged, 97% of the time, or better, for our clients.

Our safety standards help you to feel certain that your chain of responsibility obligations are being met. We pay particular attention to safety and health in everything that we do. Safety is the foundation of our approach and our principal concern – zero harm for our staff, for our clients and for the community, as well as zero damage to the goods in our care.

Safety at AirRoad

AirRoad has an Active Safety and Action Program (ASAP) that brings the executive together with staff representatives from across our national network regularly to ensure continuous improvement of safety policies, procedures, information and communication with our people and our clients.

The AirRoad enterprise-wide approach means safety is kept top of mind at every step in the supply chain – from safe packing and loading practices, transport scheduling and management plans, vehicle compliance and maintenance, to road safety and driver health and fitness - and our reliable delivery performance is not compromised.

AirRoad collaborates with clients to ensure that our people and yours operate in safe and incident-free work environments. We encourage communication and feedback to ensure that we achieve our shared goal of 'zero harm' across all our operations. Our clients' involvement in supporting the harmonization of safe work practices is key to our approach at AirRoad.

Our steadfast commitment to health and safety is demonstrated by the symbol you'll see proudly displayed at our sites and on our fleet of vehicles – 'Safety, Certainty, Always'.
